

Parish Church News

Alvediston

William Aaron Woods, Vicar of Alvediston, News Items 1879-1887

The New Vicar

Diocese of Salisbury - on the 25th ult. instituted the Rev William Aaron Woods, Curate of Bishopstone, to the Vicarage of Alvediston, Wilts, void by the death of the Rev P S Desprez, on the presentation of the Rev C G Moore, Vicar of Broad Chalke, the Patron. Western Gazette Friday 5 December 1879

Finding Food

Hindon Petty Sessions - William Aaron Woods, a clergyman, and William Roberts Woods, his son, of Alvediston, were summoned by the Excise for killing a hare without having a certificate, on the 7th September, on land belonging to Mr Gray. - After a long hearing, the Bench fined Mr Woods £4 and costs and the son £1 and costs. PC Langley gave evidence. Western Gazette Friday 12 January 1883

Bankruptcy Adjudications

George Huey, of Moorland, Parkstone, Poole, and Park Road, Swanage, Dorset, builder; Wm A Woods, of Alvediston, Wilts, clerk in holy orders; Charles H Gunner, of Shipton, Bellinger, near Andover, baker and grocer; George Parlett, of Ewshott Hill, Crondall, Hants, builder and grocer. George Holmes, of Street, grocer, draper and shopkeeper. Western Gazette Friday 11 September 1885

Meeting of the Creditors

On Saturday a meeting of creditors of the Rev W A Woods, vicar of Alvediston, was held at the offices of the Official Receiver, Salisbury, and the statement of affairs showed liabilities to the extent of £466 8s 7d; whilst the assets were £200, leaving a deficiency of £266 8s 7d. He attributed his present position to family affliction, and having a wife and seven children to maintain on £120 per annum. Bath Chronicle and Weekly Gazette Thursday 3 September 1885

A Wiltshire clergyman, the Rev W A Woods, vicar of Alvediston, met his creditors at Salisbury on Saturday. His liabilities were put down at £466, he had no assets beyond what would be realised by the sale of his furniture and horse and trap. There was thus a deficiency of nearly £3000. The answers of the debtor revealed that his vicarage brought him in only £120 a year. He had received, however, in the last year £50 for special duty, and £30 from the bishop. This £50 however was wholly absorbed in keeping a horse and trap, which he required that he might perform the extra duty; and the £30 went for the education of his son. On the remainder he had to keep a very delicate wife and seven children; one of those children had a diseased knee and required London medical treatment. Another child was in a consumption, and required to be maintained at the seaside. The debtor added that with these responsibilities he had found himself unable to keep out of difficulty. He had since contracted debts for the necessaries of life. Explaining the removal of certain furniture just before his bankruptcy, he said he had let that go that he might obtain food for his wife and children, having none in the house. He had no offer to make, and he feared his friends would do little for him. He had now to live in a house without any furniture, he had not even a bed. Several of the creditors asserted that the debtor had had expensive articles off them when he knew well he would not be able to pay for them. Only recently, one said, he had had a six guinea cloak for his wife, and some of the best Brussels carpet. The debtor said his wife's health required that she should have a cloak, and he had the carpet in the belief that a Major was coming to live at his house as lodger. The major, however, hearing that he had had county court summonses against him, refused to come. One of the creditors said that the vicarage was regularly barricaded a week before the bankruptcy, the debtor doing this to keep out creditors. The Official Receiver complained, too, that after the act of bankruptcy he was unable to get into the house without using force. - The meeting was adjourned. Exeter Flying Post Wednesday 2 September 1885

Paying the Dividends

Bankruptcy Act – Notice of Dividends - William Aaron Woods, of Alvediston, clerk in Holy Orders; second and final dividend is 1s 01/2d in the pound, payable July 15th. Official Receiver's Salisbury Hampshire Advertiser Saturday 10 July 1886

Things Back To Normal?

Advert – Vicarage - Girls (two strong) wanted (18). One as housemaid, and the other to work in the kitchen. - Apply Alvediston Vicarage, Salisbury, Wilts. Western Gazette Friday 14 October 1887