

The Cremona Musical Union c1870

Two Concerts at the Assembly Rooms

The Cremona Union, better known as the Greenhead family, gave two concerts at the Assembly Room, in this village, last week to full and highly respectable audiences. Miss Zara first violin, elicited wonderful and entrancing strains from that instrument, in the solo parts, fairly captivating her audience, by whom she was deservedly applauded. Miss Lizzie, too, on the side drum acquitted herself admirably; - to say nothing of the great abilities displayed by the whole family. It is highly creditable to the taste of the inhabitants of this village that the concert should have been so well patronised. The thanks of all true lovers of high class music are due to Mr. H. C. Law for his efforts in securing the services of these performers. He certainly strives to procure for the entertainment of the inhabitants during the season the best available talent, and is therefore well deserving encouragement and support on these occasions.
