

JOHN HIBBERD, Chimney Sweeper, New Street, Salisbury,

returns his most grateful acknowledgements to the Nobility, Gentry, and the Public in general, for the extensive patronage which they have afforded him during the 59 years that he has been in business, and assures them that it is his fixed determination, by every mean in his power, to testify his gratitude, and to merit a continuance of those favours so liberally conferred.

To prevent his customers from being imposed upon, his Boys will in future wear a Brass Plate on their Caps, with his name and residence. He requests that no payments may be made to his Boys, as he never authorises them to receive any money on his account.

New Sarum, 16th April 1827.
