

Employed as a Pirate

Don't talk to Glynn Prince about keeping clean. In addition to his normal ablutions he gets a soaking every week from youngsters at a holiday resort in St. Austell, Cornwall. Glynn, 19, of Highworth Road, Stratton St. Margaret, is a Greencoat with responsibilities for keeping guests happy.

They say never volunteer for anything, but Glynn did just that when there was a need for someone to take the part of Captain Blood, the cut-throat Cornish pirate. But he has no regrets. Glynn loves every minute of it.

Evening Advertiser 1 August 1980