CONCERT

With the assistance of some kind and talented friends from Salisbury, a very delightful concert of vocal and instrumental music was given in the School-room of this small parish, on Monday last. The proceeds, amounting to 7*l.* 10*s.*, have been added to the funds of the Shipwrecked Mariners' Society. This valuable institution stands in need of more than usual support in consequence of the long catalogue of ships driven ashore and lives sacrificed during the frequent storms of the past winter. Subscriptions and donations will be thankfully received at the bank of Messrs. Pinckney, Salisbury, or by the Ven. Archdeacon Hony, honorary agent.

CONCERT

A concert was given in the School-room of this parish on Thursday last. By the kind valuable assistance of Mr Aylward and members of his talented family, and of Messrs Taylor and Hilton, of the choir of Salisbury Cathedral, a delightful selection of music was most ably performed to the high gratification of a crowded audience. At the conclusion, Archdeacon Hony, in returning thanks to the ladies and gentlemen who had given them such a treat that evening, alluded to the Shipwrecked Mariners' Society, to the funds of which the proceeds of the concert, amounting to about 8*l.*, were to be added. He informed the company that 1786 ships had been lost on our own coasts in the past year. The crews of these wrecked vessels were of course landed destitute, and immediately became the object of the society's care. The sum sent to the society in 1869, from the Salisbury district was 16*l.* 17*s.* 6 d.

SHIPWRECKED MARINERS' SOCIETY

An advertisement in another column contains an account of the sums collected in this neighbourhood during the past year. The society was never more in need of support, and we are authorized to state that the contributions will be most thankfully received at the bank of Messrs. Pinckney, or by the Ven. Archdeacon Hony, at Baverstock.
